

OODENA CELEBRATION CIRCLE

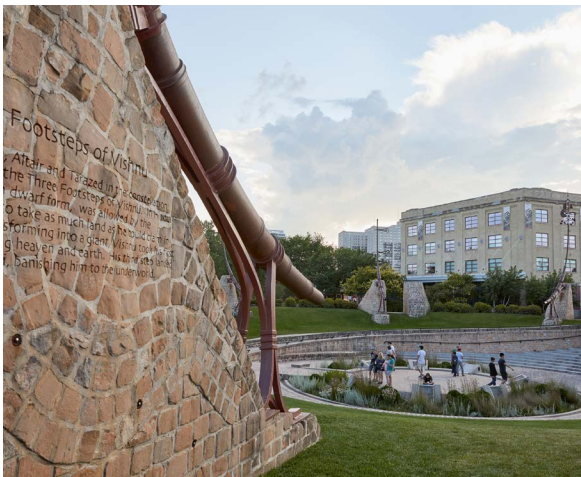

Near the confluence of the Red and Assiniboine Rivers, the Oodena Celebration Circle is a natural shallow amphitheater that honors 6,000 years history of The Forks. Known as "Oodena," which means "heart of the community" in Ojibwe, this unique venue features ethereal sculptures, a sundial, interpretive signage, a naked-eye observatory, and a ceremonial fire pit. Oodena is an ideal location for cultural celebrations, ceremonies, and gatherings, inviting visitors to connect with nature while appreciating its beauty and significance.

CAPACITY

Accommodates up to 3,500 guests, making it an ideal venue for larger celebrations like weddings, sacred events, and community gatherings.

AMENITIES

- Power access (equipment not included)
- Nearest potable water access available at The Forks Market
- Vehicle access via the roundabout located between Oodena and Inn at The Forks
- As a sacred ceremonial space, the consumption of alcohol is prohibited and thus this space cannot be licensed sandstone cobble monolith with astronomical sighting structure

aerial view of Oodena

If you are interested in booking this space, please complete the application form to receive a cost estimate. If you have questions about this space or general events at The Forks, please contact our events team at events@theforks.com.

